The Vermont academy basketball team, which was defeated in successive nights by Spaulding high school and Goddard seminary in this city, fared no better against Burlington high school in Burlington last night, losing by the score of 42 to 25.

Lyman H. Howe's travel festival, to be at the opera house next Tuesday evening, February 1, makes a more general and genuine appeal than possibly any other attraction before the American public.

The new program possesses all the elements needed to please all temperaments. Those who delight in foreign travel will find resplendent scenes of a great Mohammedan religious ceremony in Delhi, India; of winter gravities in St. Moritz, Switzerland; and of logging through the Italian Alps.

Those who are truly patriotic will be stirred by the strenuous scenes of United States army life in camp and action at West Point, Annapolis, Fort Meyer, etc. Those who crave excitement will find it in the spectacular impact of a huge projectile on armor plate, and dynamiting a bridge by the engineer corps, U. S. A. A violent eruption of the largest volcano in Java also provides a sensation in its own way.

For lovers of the sea, there are thrilling scenes of a ship's struggle through tremendous seas and a heavy gale at Biarritz. For nature lovers there are fascinating studies of birds of the Rockies and Scotland in the colors of nature, and the effect of music on wild animals. In fact, the range of the program is world-wide and is therefore sure to please all.

The Biograph at Dreamland last night was the means, probably, of a packed house. The American Biograph pictures are always popular and "The Rocky Road" is no exception to the well-established rule. It is really a drama of merit. The comedy, "How Hubby Made Good," is interestingly funny. The song is worth hearing.

A frequenter of the Bijou theatre said last night to some friends that the show there was the finest he had seen anywhere for months. Altogether, it surely is a strong program. "Winter Sports" is a film made up of photographs taken in Germany during one of the big carnivals. It is very interesting to witness. The drama and comedy are both good.

Joseph Buchanan pleaded guilty in the city court this morning to a first offense of intoxication and paid a fine of $5, with costs of $6.74. He was arrested last evening by Officer Hamel, who was called to a house on South Main street, where the woman who came to the station for the officer said that he was making all kinds of a disturbance. This is the second intoxication case in court this month.

Fred H. Russell, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. T. W. Russell of Eastern avenue, underwent an operation yesterday afternoon for the removal of some pieces of bone from a wound beside his eye, which was received New Year's day. The boy was apparently getting along well until yesterday, when pus started from the wound, and it was decided to operate.

Examination showed that the bone around the eye had been fractured, and Dr. W. E. Lozell removed several pieces. The injury was caused by the boy's falling upon the ice, a cane which he had in his hand entering at the corner of his right eye. His condition is as comfortable today as could be expected.

Over forty of the young people of the Baptist church and their friends went to Williamstown on their annual sleigh-ride last night. They enjoyed the grange hall and passed the evening in playing games, and the following program was given: Piano solo, Mildred Perry and Glen Wood; vocal solo, Miss Grace Wood; dialogue, Ralph Rogers and Mildred Perry; reading, Miss Sutton; piano solo, Ethel Ingles; singing by ladies' quartet, consisting of Mrs. E. J. Batchelder, Miss Harris, Miss Grace Wood and Ethel Ingles; dialogue, Walter Gearson and Mrs. H. Bradley; violin solo, E. J. Batchelder. After the program, the company returned to the parlor, where refreshments were served by the ladies. The party found the grange hall well equipped for social entertainments.

The Daylight Store

WILL OPEN NEW STORE.

Woolworth & Co. Now Installed in Their New Location.

F. W. Woolworth & company open their new five and ten-cent store in the Howland & Cave block, 109-111 Main street, Friday afternoon and evening, for inspection, with Gilbertson's orchestra in attendance, and Saturday morning for business. The display windows are built in the familiar Woolworth style, large, square fronted of plate glass, wood-work painted brilliant red and the firm name-sign across the top in gold-finished raised letters on a red background. Two large are lights extend out over the sidewalks.

Inside, the store, which is 30 by 80 feet, is especially attractive. The waiting, seating and counters are all of a mahogany finish, the walls tinted a light straw color and the steel ceiling painted white. The store is amply lighted with daylight by several windows, and numerous tungsten lights of latest design are installed. It will be heated by steam. Fire-pulls are scattered in convenient places throughout the store. The floor is based with solid concrete, and is said to be absolutely fireproof. The basement will be used for storage purposes only.

W. D. Kelly, who has been the
